

Copyright Policy

Copyrights of all papers submitted to the 27th International Conference on Electrical Machines and Systems (ICEMS2024) shall be transferred to the IEEJ in principle. The authors should understand that the following applies to the copyright transfer.

- (1) Copyrights (all of the rights stipulated in the provisions from Article 21 to Article 28 in the Japanese Copyright Law) are hereby transferred to the IEEJ.
- (2) This work or a substantially similar work has not been published elsewhere and is not currently being considered for another publication in any language.
Note: Such materials as published in the IEEJ Conference Paper, IEEJ Technical Meeting Paper and other IEEJ sponsored or co-sponsored meeting papers are not the subject of this item.
- (3) The authors should take full cautions in quoting articles from other works to avoid any infringement of copyrights.
- (4) This work shall not infringe upon the rights of any third party. In the case of author(s) using copyrighted material in his/her work, written permission from the copyright holders shall be obtained for such use free of charge to IEEJ by the author(s) prior to the submission.
- (5) All the persons who have made substantial contributions to the work shall appear as authors.
- (6) An agreement for publication shall be obtained in cases where it is necessary from a person having appropriate authority in any organization to which author(s) belongs.
- (7) Even if the copyrights have been transferred to the IEEJ, the authors reserve the following rights:
 - *All proprietary rights other than copyright, such as patent rights
 - *Re-use of part of the paper for their curriculum vitae
 - *To make copies for their own purposes other than for commercial purposes (e.g. for educational material)
 - *To use without violating the Japanese Copyright Law
- (8) The copyrights in this paragraph include the following: Right of reproduction (Article 21), Right of performance (Article 22), Right of screen presentation (Article 22-2), Right of public transmission, etc. (Article 23), Right of recitation (Article 24), Right of exhibition (Article 25), Right of distribution (Article 26), Right of ownership transfer (Article 26-2), Right of rental (Article 26-3), Right of translation, adaptation, etc. (Article 27), and Right of the original author in the exploitation of a derivative work (Article 28) in the Japanese Copyright Law.
- (9) In the event that it has been decided that the paper or article should not be published, the copyright transfer form will become invalid at the time of the decision not to publish.
